

PRESS RELEASE

Formal Statement of Objection to the Remarks and Activities of Prof. Ali Khan Mahmudabad During a Time of National Security

The undersigned respectfully submits this representation to place on record a matter of grave public and constitutional concern arising from a recent statement made by Prof. Ali Khan Mahmudabad, Associate Professor at Ashoka University. Upon close and reasoned examination, it is our considered view that the statement is not only legally and ethically problematic but also reveals a deeply embedded mala fide intent aimed at destabilizing communal harmony, undermining institutional integrity, and eroding gender equity in the public sphere.

At the outset, it may be noted that while the statement appears—superficially—to fall within the protective ambit of Article 19(1)(a) of the Constitution of India, it veils, beneath the veneer of dialectic sophistication, a calibrated attempt to introduce disaffection towards the State by framing critical national security operations in communal terms. The expression, rather than engaging in bona fide academic critique, seeks to weaponize public sentiment by constructing a narrative of marginalization and purported State hypocrisy.

Particularly concerning is the manner in which Prof. Mahmudabad's commentary projects a patriarchal worldview which is inherently adversarial to the constitutional promise of gender equality under Articles 14 and 15. The subtext of his rhetoric operates on a reductionist logic that casts women—notably those in uniformed service—not as autonomous agents of State action, but as symbolic instruments co-opted to legitimize purportedly communal agendas. This view is regressive, gender-disempowering, and contrary to both legal norms and societal progress. By implicitly questioning the legitimacy and agency of Colonel Sofia Qureshi, a decorated officer of the Indian Armed Forces, and her visible participation in Operation Sindoor and associated press briefings, Prof. Mahmudabad does more than critique policy—he undermines the individual dignity and institutional authority of a woman officer who has rendered distinguished service to the nation.

His commentary, by framing her presence as performative or tokenistic, attempts to delegitimize her role under the guise of intellectual deliberation. This veiled form of misogyny cloaked in pseudo-academic inquiry amounts, effectively, to the erasure of women's agency in spheres of national importance. Further, the professor's use of rhetorical devices—ostensibly meant to unearth 'hypocrisies'—reveals a more insidious strategy of political one-upmanship. The selective invocation of socio-political grievances, while ignoring the context and complexity of constitutional duty, suggests a deliberate intent to distort public discourse for adversarial gain. Such speech, in the current context, not only impugns the integrity of national institutions but also fosters cynicism regarding the genuine and commendable contributions of individuals such as Colonel Qureshi. It is imperative to note that our Constitution does not countenance the liberty to speak with the intent to mislead, malign, or undermine the values it seeks to preserve. Article 19(2) permits reasonable restrictions on speech in the interests of public order, the security of the State, and the dignity of individuals, especially where such speech serves to distort reality, provoke communal tension, and reinforce patriarchal stereotypes that are incompatible with the vision of a progressive, inclusive Republic.

In light of the foregoing, we respectfully urge the Honorable Supreme Court to take serious cognizance of the broader socio-legal implications of Prof. Mahmudabad's statement. At a time when the nation is making concerted strides towards gender parity in defence and governance, such statements threaten to undo hard-won gains by reasserting outdated paradigms through veiled academic rhetoric.

We submit that this issue warrants urgent and careful scrutiny, not only from the perspective of communal harmony and national integrity, but also through the lens of gender justice and constitutional fidelity.

Jai Hind!
